THE WATER METER QUESTION. Some Strong Points in Favor of the Meters. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

I should be glad if The Star would give space in its columns to allow a simple Washington taxpayer to say that he is in thorough sympathy with the desire of the Commissioners to test in a tentative way the merits of water meters, as indicated in the clause in appropriation bill allotting $5,000 for the purchase of meters to be installed as desired by the water consumers Under the present system a householder thumb theory, by which the charge is based on the width and heighth of his house and the number of fixtures contained therein without any regard to the actual amount of water used, or of being penalized by being compelled to put in a meter at his own expense in order to demonstrate that the egular charge is excessive.

As bearing upon this question I may say

As bearing upon this question I may say that when building my residence I put in for the convenience of my family more fixtures than were absolutely essential, and being in the suburbs the house in question is of greater frontage than is common. Under the usual method of fixing water rates the charge against me would have been $42.50. I, however, installed a meter, and the charge per 1,000 gallons has never reached the minimum charge for the meter service ($10 per year), notwithstanding the fact that all the water for my residence, stable and fountain goes through the meter.

In case meters are generally adopted it would be well to reduce the minimum charge to $5, and this, I understand, is the present intention of the Commissioners. It would be of great advantage to all concerned in the proper conduct of municipal government if meters could be placed on the supply pipes of the government departments and public institutions, as then it could be determined at least how large a proportion of our water supply is used by them, and it is even possible to hope that proportion of our water supply is used by them, and it is even possible to hope that some of the almost criminal wastage could bome of the almost criminal wastage could be stopped.

My experience as a user of meters, both in my residence and business establishment, has theroughly convinced me that under a measured service only those who allow the most reprehensible waste of water would pay as much as they do under the present guess-work system.

I have found the meters accurate when tested and do not believe that they are fairly subject to the suspicion with which gas meters are viewed.

ALLEGED IMPOSTOR.

Man Who Poses as Priest and Known as Father John. The alleged bogus priest, who represents himself as "Father John," and who has traveled all over the United States, was in this city yesterday. He was at St. Aloysius Church in the morning, and after leaving there he went to the establishment of the Little Sisters of the Poor, where he was given something to eat. The police learned that he was in the city and Detective McNamee was sent out to arrest him, but "Father John" had too much of a start on the detective, and the latter was unable to overtake him. The officer learned that he had walked out the Baltimore and Ohio railroad track, going in the direction of Baltimore.

About a month ago a letter was received by the nolice from the Rev. J. F. Lehy, president of the College of the Holy Cross, at Worcester, Mass., making inquiries about the alleged imposter. "Father John." as he is known, is said to be named Thos. Dupon. The police learned that he had been arrested in Massachusetts and senteneed for false pretenses, and that he had also been in other parts of the United States. At one time, it is alleged, he represented himself as "Father Wood," and said he was an uncle of Gen. Leonard F. Wood, military governor of Cuba. It is believed by the police that the man wanted went to Baltimore yesterday.
